NEWS FROM THE GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

BY MRS. P. KLASSEN

THANKS FROM THE GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

The Guidance Department would like to extend a huge "thank-you" to the entire St. Benedict Community - students, parents and staff - for their help and support during the course selection process. The vast majority of students completed the task of choosing their courses, using the on-line program for next year, on or before the deadline of February 27. This has given our department time this week to contact students who have yet to complete this important task. If your son or daughter has not returned their paper copy, signed by a parent or guardian to the guidance office, please encourage them to do so as soon as possible.

HEALTHY HEART DAY - BE A VOLUNTEER AND/OR A PARTICIPANT

Volunteers are needed for set up at the school the night prior to the event, as well as from 7 AM to 2PM on the day of the event. In addition to being a great way to earn community service hours, this event would be of interest to anyone interested in professions in the health care of medical field. See Mrs. Klassen in guidance if you are interested in volunteering or email healthyheartday@rogers.com.

ARE YOU PLANNING TO GRADUATE IN JUNE? GET YOUR COMMUNITY SERVICE HOURS FINISHED!

In addition to earning 30 credits and completing the Literacy Requirement, all potential graduates must complete 40 hours of Community Service to be granted their Ontario Secondary School Diploma (OSSD). BREAKFAST CLUB

BY MRS. W. SCHUSTER

Every morning, Monday through Friday, St. Benedict's provides students with a healthy start to their day. ALL students are welcome, free of charge to join staff in room 107 every day from 7:45 to 8:10 for breakfast. We also provide "Breakfast to Go" in the atrium from 8:00 until 8:20.

Menu items include: toast (muffins, bagels, English muffins, waffles etc.) fruit, yogurt, juice, milk and cheese. Every Friday we prepare an extra special breakfast for all students, such as: breakfast burritos, pancakes, Spanish omelets, breakfast sandwiches and much more.

It is through the generous grants from "Nutrition for Learning" that we are able to provide this important service for all of our students. On Thursday, February 27th students participated in Nutrition for Learning's annual "Live Free Campaign". Students donated one dollar in exchange to live without their uniform for a day. As a community we raised approximately $1,200.00. Thank you so much for your generosity! Every dollar raised goes towards our breakfast program at St. Benedict; the money will be used to purchase food and supplies for the program.

Staff volunteers include: Pat Klassen, Nick Betik, Wendy Schuster, Jason Kent, Neil Calhoun, Dawn Wylie, Daisy Fedyna, Sally Reis, Laura O'Neill, Julie Atchison, Lucy Van Wyk and Danielle Trentini. Kudos to Glenda Leusink who is always willing to come in on a busy Friday to help tackle all of the dirty pots and pans!

A special thank you to our student volunteers who help to make this program possible through their service. Our student volunteers help prepare and distribute snacks for the Breakfast to Go program and help with the set up and clean-up of our morning breakfasts. Our wonderful student volunteers are: Rebecca Sibley, Laura Viscardi, Devin Dyer and Lindsay Hiebert. Thank you! If you would like to volunteer for the program, please see Ms. Trentini or Mrs. Schuster in room 210.

A heartfelt thank you to Trish McKegg-Vandermeij, a community member, for the generous food donations she has made to our program over the years. The abundant supply of waffles, cheese and yogurts is greatly appreciated!

If you have any questions about the program or would like to make a donation, please contact either Wendy Schuster or Danielle Trentini at the school.

Please join us in room 107 in the morning. It is a great way to start the day!

ENRICHING THE LIVES OF STUDENTS

BY MRS. D. WITTMANN

BARRIERS TO CRITICAL THINKING

Barriers to critical thinking if left unchecked can harm, and even seriously injure a curious and open mind, the ability to think through issues, analyzing issues from multiple view points and other critical thinking concepts. Let's call these threats land mines. Much thinking of the untrained mind is distorted, incomplete, biased, uninformed and prejudiced. This kind of thinking creates a potential mine field that can hold a person back from using his/her knowledge, schooling, experience, reasoning, intuition, common sense and confidence to make informed decisions. This section was created to raise awareness of the critical thinking mine field and ways of avoiding the mines. Then, you can focus your efforts on thinking more critically.

CRITICAL THINKING LAND MINES

Below are several barriers to be aware of:

- Egocentric Thinking: Egocentric thinking is viewing everything in relation to oneself. These individuals are self-centered and consider only their interests. This impedes critical thinking.
- Social Conditioning: Critical thinking is hindered when the world and people in it are viewed from biased conditioning without learning the needs, desires and dreams of others.
- Biased Experiences: Biased experiences are a relative of egocentric thinking.
- Arrogance and Intolerance: Arrogance and intolerance are not welcome in the mind of the true critical thinker. They are recognized for what they are and kept to a minimum.
- Schedule Pressures: Schedule pressures can be an enemy of sound critical thinking.
- Group Think: "When everyone thinks alike, no one thinks very much."
- The Drone Mentality: It is easy to fall into a drone mentality (a pattern of not paying attention to the world, people and surroundings). This mentality can sneak up at any time.

To sidestep the critical thinking land mines first become aware of them. Then, make a conscious effort to avoid them. Becoming a critical thinker requires continually questioning your thinking and ideas as well as the thinking and ideas of others. This separates you from the crowd. The power and confidence gained by making informed decisions is a worthy reward.

TALES FROM TECHNOLOGY TALKS ... AN UPDATE TO WHAT'S HAPPENING IN OUR TECHNOLOGY AREA

BY MRS. L. O'NEILL

The Stratford Humane Society has approached our construction teacher Mr. Seguin to build sixteen dog houses. Mr. Seguin's construction classes, Grade 9 integrated tech class and Mr. Briere's active learning class will also be involved. The dog houses will be made in three different sizes.

Mr. Sullivan and his Manufacturing classes have been busy building recycling centres for the school. These three compartment recycling centres will be placed outside. It will allow students and community members to better dispose of waste and recycling.

An underwater welder - working on cruise ships in Florida, an ironworker -- working on structural steel maintenance, plumber, electrician, general carpenters - all jobs not often done by females. But The Provincial Women's Access to Trades Network is trying to change that. I had the opportunity to attend the 3rd annual Women in Skilled Trades Conference held at Mohawk College. There has been a lot of talk about the impending shortage of skilled trades workers in general and that there will be lots of room in the skilled trades for males and females. I spent the day learning about the lack of women applying to be part of the skilled trades and also about the great opportunities that are available to women who are interested in the trades. One of the speakers was a 26 year old manufacturing apprentice who got her start in the Waterloo Region. She took Manufacturing as a co-op and worked at Linamar in Guelph. She placed second in Skills Canada at the national level and continues to work at Linamar. Most often apprenticeship and colleges are considered a plan B option, but hopefully the high wages, good benefits and a paid education are drawing students towards the skilled trades.

QUICK FACTS

According to a recent Canadian Apprenticeship Forum and Skills Canada poll conducted by Ipsos-Reid:

42% of Canadian youth claim they are unlikely to consider a career in the skilled trades;

67% of youth and 55% of adults would choose university as the first post-secondary option;

26% of youth said they would consider a career in the trades;

60% of youth said their parents have not encouraged them to consider a career in trades;

71% of youth said guidance counsellors have not encouraged them to consider skilled trade professions.

DID YOU KNOW

- In the next two decades, 40% of new jobs will be in the skilled trades and technologies. In 1998, that number was less than 20%.
- Many more people in the skilled trades are retiring than are entering the system.
- Many skilled tradespeople now make six-figure incomes with excellent benefits.
- In Canada, the shortage of skilled labour has been estimated at no fewer than 20,000 unfilled jobs, growing to 50,000 by 2010.
- According to Job Futures 2000, by 2007, more than one-third of jobs created in Canada will require a skilled trades designation or college diploma.

*Source Skills Canada - Ontario

One of the myths they dispelled was "the trades are just for students who don't excel in academics". The women working in the trades stressed the need to excel at mathematics, analytical ability and literacy.

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO JUNIOR MATH CONTESTS

By Miss C. Stockie

On Thursday, February 21st, over 50 students from Grades 9 through 11 took part in the 2013 University of Waterloo Pascal, Cayley and Fermat Math Contests. Watch for detailed results coming out at the end of March or beginning of April. Some of these lucky contestants may even be invited to take part in the U of W Elite Problem-Solving contests taking place later this spring. If you are interested, please contact your Math teacher or our Mathematics Program Head, Mr. Borba.

In April, St. Benedict's is going to go math contest crazy! On April 17th, we will be holding the Euclid Contest for interested grade 12s, and on April 18th, we will be holding the Fryer, Galois, and Hypatia Contests for interested grade 9s, 10s, and 11s. The registration deadline for these contests is this Friday, March 8 by the end of the day. Either see your math teacher, or come by the math office to sign up. For the Fryer, Galois, and Hypatia contests, a $5 deposit is expected. For the Euclid contest, a $10 deposit is expected.

CANADIAN COMPUTING COMPETITION

By Mr. A. Milardovic

Last Tuesday six of our students were sequestered to the computer lab in room 214 to write the individual computer contest hosted by the University of Waterloo. Our students had three hours to solve several problems and write the computer programs to generate the solutions. All six programmers did extremely well, each of them getting perfect marks on at least two programs. Although none of them tried the fifth problem, they all at least attempted the first four, some even getting partial solutions. Congratulations on a fantastic effort to Shameel Abdullah, Clara Castro, Emile Danila, Conor Dunne, Zach Kasprczyk, and Tully McWatters.

The next computer contest will be the ECOO Programming Contest on March 26, hosted by St. Mary's. This event will be a team event, and St. Benedict will be entering three teams for the first time—until now we've submitted two teams, but schools that have an all-girl programming team can bring a third. Results will be posted in the next BENN newsletter.

SACRED PLACES

By Rebecca Sibley

The students of the Grade 11 Religion classes from St. Benedict Catholic Secondary School enjoyed a memorable field trip to three different sacred spaces during the month of December in 2012. They went to the local Islamic mosque in the city of Cambridge, a Jewish synagogue, and a Hindu temple.

It was at these three sacred places where the students were able to experience a component of each individual religion. These experiences ranged from the boys wearing the Jewish Kippah to the students practising the Hindu meditation.

At the mosque the students were able to explore the sacred place and meet the local imam. They were also able to witness the next generation of Muslims attending their classes for a short period of time. These students were privileged with the ability to ask questions first hand to an Islamic religious leader.

The field trip next took the students to a Jewish synagogue where the young boys were allowed to wear the colourful Kippahs previously worn by the young boys during their Bar

Mitzvah. The Students were also able to ask the rabbi questions and to view the Jewish Holy Scriptures first hand.

Finally, the students concluded their educational trip with a visit to a Hindu temple. The Hindu Brahmin gave the students a quick lesson on a relaxing meditation before she introduced them to the many forms of the overall Supreme Being, Brahman.

The students enjoyed the experience and the exposure to the three different religions of which they are not normally exposed to in their daily lives. The overall trip can be considered successful. It is highly encouraged for the future generations as a way to encounter another religion and to hopefully create an understanding as well as a tolerance between other religions.
