Student Transportation Services of Waterloo Region surveys

We are asking parents and/or guardians to participate in a survey about their student's journey to school. The purpose of the surveys is to get a better understanding of the thoughts and opinions of the student's journey to school. We have created surveys for students using the school bus and for students who use other forms of transportation like walking or biking to school. Our goal is to enhance the student's experience and to improve our services in the future. The survey typically takes 5 minutes to complete and will be open until Friday, June 14th, 2019.

If you have any questions in regards to the surveys please contact the Morgan Potts at (519) 744-7575, extension 229 or at morgan_potts@stswr.ca.

Thank you for providing your feedback. We appreciate the time you have taken and will actively use it to improve our services to you in the future!

Bring Your Own Device and Purchase Program

Partnership with STAPLES Canada for Chromebooks and Windows 10 Cloudbooks

WCDSB has made significant investments to ensure our students and staff have access to a variety current technologies. The use of technology to support learning remains a key priority to ensure that students are equipped with the skills to flourish in an increasingly digital world. Chromebooks and Windows 10 Cloudbooks have proven to be versatile, reliable, and affordable digital tool in the classroom.

As students have engaged more with the technology that is available in their classrooms, many families have expressed interest in purchasing a device for their child to use at school and at home. Many parents have reached out, seeking advice about which technology would best support their child's learning, is reasonably priced, yet durable enough to withstand the wear and tear of daily use as it's transported back and forth to school each day.

More information can be found on the BYOD information page on the school board website:

If you are interested in pursuing this opportunity, you need to download and print out this document and take it to your nearest Staples store.

Integrity

Welcome to the Umbrella Project! The Umbrella Project program is designed to help you and your family proactively build wellbeing and prepare for life's challenges. This can be done through practicing a set of skills that are known to improve our children's happiness and success. Much like an umbrella protects us from the rain, each of these skills forms a piece of an umbrella that protects us from life's rainy days and helps us learn and succeed.

This month, we're building the Integrity piece of your child's umbrella. Integrity is when we have a set of positive values and our actions in life match that set of positive values. If you look up integrity in the dictionary, it also means 'wholeness', when the things that we say and do match up with what we value.

What is Integrity?

Integrity is when we have a set of positive values and our actions in life match those values. If you look up integrity in the dictionary, it also means 'wholeness'. When we say one thing and do another, it can make us feel like we always have something to cover up or hide. Integrity allows us to feel whole and take pride in and accountability for our actions.

Integrity also increases the release of oxytocin in our brain which is our bonding hormone and it makes us more trustworthy to others. Integrity is the number one quality people look for in a leader and will help our children feel proud of who they are.

Umbrella Integrity Tip #1

Help your child find positive role models.

Many studies have shown that humans learn through modeling others. One great way to build integrity in your child is to help them find positive role models. These role models help them believe that it is possible to succeed without compromising our values. Having positive role models helps our children learn strategies for achieving their goals, decide what is socially acceptable and make a difference in the world. That's why the Umbrella Project is filled with stories and examples of people use all the Umbrella Skills to take on life.

Examples of integrity are everywhere. When you notice them in books, movies and stories be sure to talk about it with your kids. Look for examples of integrity in the people your children already admire and discuss them. Make integrity something that has value in and of itself. For example, there is value in not cheating on a test even though your friends did and got a better mark because of it.

It's choices like that that can make integrity difficult to use and it's important that children see those they admire making these difficult decisions. Making choices with integrity is not always the easiest choice and our kids need lots of examples of integrity to understand why it is the better choice.

Umbrella Integrity Tip #2

Ask, 'How did you add value to someone else's life today?'

One of the biggest contributors to low integrity is over-focusing on our own success at all costs. Students will often lie, cheat, put friends down and behave in ways that don't match their values because they feel the need to compete with peers and win no matter what. Unfortunately, when we look at the research, we see that having integrity and strong relationships is a much better way to cultivate long term success.

If others don't trust us, they are much less likely to support us and help us to be successful. One way to foster integrity in your child is to challenge them to add value to the lives of others each day. Talk about and celebrate these experiences as a family and add intention to giving back regularly.

By asking your children, "How did you add value to someone else's life today?", you can remind them to keep perspective on a bigger picture of success and build their integrity.

Umbrella Integrity Tip #3

Create a set of family values.

What are your family values? Can your child discuss and defend them? Having a set of family values has a huge impact on the well-being of our children. It helps them to feel part of something bigger than themselves and identify healthy ways to behave and build their self-esteem. It also creates a set of guidelines that we can align our actions with. This helps to build and sustain integrity of thought and action and create meaning and purpose in our lives. Living with purpose and feeling strong doesn't have to be about achieving specific goals. How we show up everyday for our friends, colleagues and family can make us feel that we are living purposefully every day.

Start by brainstorming as a family the experiences and values that are most important to you. This exercise should be done as a family so that everyone has a say in creating and sharing what matters most to them.

Discuss each point that comes up and why it is important to the person who suggested it and to the larger group. Select the values that define your family and display them somewhere you can see them often. When your child displays these values, try to notice and point them out to your child. Here are some of the ideas that came up in my family: generosity, honesty, sharing experiences and travel to broaden our minds, friendship, connecting with nature, giving back, a family that supports each other...

Support Catholic Education

The number of Catholic ratepayers in Waterloo Region has fallen in the last number of years to below 100,000. This has happened at the same time Waterloo Region's population has grown significantly. To help counter this downward trend, in conjunction with our annual Kindergarten sign-up campaign, we are also launching a campaign to increase the number of "official" Catholic school supporters in Waterloo Region.

Advanced Placement at St. Benedict

By Mrs. D. Wittmann

Advanced Placement (AP) is an internationally recognized program that allows students to enrich the Ontario Curriculum with the goal of achieving university accreditation.

What does the research say about AP students?

Research shows that the best predictor of whether or not a student completes a university degree is not their high school grades or standardized tests. Rather, the best predictor is how many challenging courses a student has taken in high school. Students who challenge themselves with AP courses and exams are much more likely to complete a university degree in four years or less.

Science team at University of Guelph Olympics 2019

By Ms. S. Skinn

On Thursday May 9, 2019 our science team headed to the University of Guelph for the Science Olympics competition (for a list of the team members see below). This is a variety of STEM based competitions set up by the University of Guelph for high school students and includes events like “phurious phowl physics”, “chemical conundrums”, “molecular art”, “the science of the brain” and of course the yearly science scavenger hunt! Our team was 2nd in the senior scavenger hunt and 3rd in the junior scavenger hunt. Our “budding bird biologist” team also placed 2nd overall.

In the middle of the day the physics department at the university decided to break the elephant toothpaste world record! This is based on a chemical reaction of the decomposition of concentrated hydrogen peroxide.

While at the university a few students also competed in the University of Waterloo chemistry contest ("Chem13") online. Congratulations to Bianca Angheluta, Curtis Hall, Muna Mohamed, Jacquelyn Ogata-Bean and Dennis Tran for completing this very difficult contest – we are anxiously awaiting results! Our next competition is at the University of Western Ontario on May 23.
